

5TH WORLD CONGRESS ON JUSTICE WITH CHILDREN

“ADVANCING CHILD-CENTRED JUSTICE:
Preventing And Responding to Violence Affecting Children In Child Justice Systems”

CHILD AND YOUTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE

AILIN SANCHEZ

Member of the Justice With Children Child and Youth Advisory Committee 2025

Ailin Morales Sánchez is a 16-year-old who describes herself as a curious person. That's why she joined the Child and Youth Advisory Committee (CYAC). From the beginning, she was interested in this project about youth justice because she always felt the need to get involved and do something to change things. She believes everyone should have the chance to build a better future. She decided to participate because she thinks it's really important for young people to talk about the things that matter to them and bring their ideas.

For Ailin, CYAC is a space where she can learn, listen to other voices, and also share what she thinks. She doesn't feel like she has all the answers, but she does have a lot of questions and a real desire to be part of something meaningful. She cares about creating more dialogue, hearing different perspectives, and getting people to seriously talk about what many young people are going through. She's here because even if change isn't easy, it's worth trying.
